

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT RESOLVING PROBLEMS

The credit union and its employees have always been committed to delivering high quality service to members and customers. Our Market Code identifies the standards we adhere to as an organization, the way we conduct ourselves and how we treat you. We work to maintain your trust while continuing to embrace our co-operative values.

It is important for us to know when you have a problem so that we can try to resolve it and retain your confidence. If you have a concern or complaint about the service we provide, or the products we offer, we want to hear from you. By solving your issue or concern we will ultimately improve our service levels to all members.

OUR PROCESS FOR RESOLVING YOUR COMPLAINTS

We want to handle your complaint in the most efficient and professional manner possible. If you have a concern or problem of any sort, we encourage you to follow the steps outlined below.

Step 1: Your Credit Union

Start at the Source and Gather Your Facts

It is generally easier to check the facts and resolve a problem where it originated. This may mean a quick phone call or visit to your credit union branch.

Before you contact the credit union, you can save time by collecting all the relevant information in advance:

- Your account number
- The date(s) of occurrence
- Any supporting account statements or documents
- The names of employees involved
- Your thoughts about the circumstances
- What you would like the credit union to do to resolve the problem

Once you have this information on hand, call or visit the employee you dealt with or the branch in question.

If the employee you approach cannot help you resolve your issues, ask to speak with the manager, senior officer or the credit union's internal ombudsman. They will have the authority to solve most problems right away. The sooner you contact the appropriate person, the sooner they can begin working on a solution.

Step 2: Ombudsman for Banking Services and Investments (OBSI)

Disputes that remain unresolved after being reviewed by the credit union can be forwarded to the Ombudsman for Banking Services and Investments (OBSI).

The OBSI is an independent federal organization that investigates customer complaints against financial service providers, including banks, credit unions, federal trust and loan companies and other deposit taking organizations, investment dealers, mutual fund dealers and mutual fund companies and RESP dealers. The service is free of charge.

Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada

If you have concerns about your privacy or the way the credit union has handled your personal information, you should try and settle the matter directly with the credit union by contacting the Privacy Officer.

If you are not satisfied with the credit union's response, you may contact the Office of the Privacy Commissioner. Filing a complaint with the office is free of charge and you will be assisted throughout the process.
